

WHAT IS AMR?

What is Anti-Muslim Racism and at what point is something racist?

Anti-Muslim Racism (AMR) describes any kind of discrimination (or negativity) that is based on people thinking that you look, sound, or come from a Muslim background/ country, whether that is true or not. This can be expressed in many ways such as:

WHO EXPERIENCES AMR?

You don't have to be Muslim to face anti-muslim racism!
You might face AMR if you...

HAVE YOU EXPERIENCED AMR?

Get emotional support and advice

We've compiled a list of counseling locations based on language and hours of operation. "Yallah!" also offers mediation to help resolve conflicts as well as empowerment workshops.
<https://redar.berlin/beratung/>

Report an Incident

You can report incidents of racism as a targeted individual or witness using our reporting tool at:
<https://redar.berlin>
(in English, German, Turkish, or Arabic).

Reporting incidents helps to collect tangible data and raise awareness of AMR in public spheres. Together we can make Anti-Muslim Racism visible!

File a police report online at:
<https://www.internetwache-polizei-berlin.de>.

YALLAH! FACING ANTI-MUSLIM RACISM

Yallah's empowerment project is aimed at people who are affected by AMR, which explicitly includes people with an ascribed Muslim background. The project offers a wide range of events, for networking and mutual empowerment, but also to provide information about support and reporting systems.